14 WING • ESCADRE 14 GREENWOOD, NS

Vol. 34 No. 25 JUNE 24, 2013 NO CHARGE www.auroranewspaper.com

Closure of back gate July 1

Effective July 1, the “back gate” in the AOZ will be permanently closed to morning and afternoon traffic.

While it is recognized this is a valued convenience for the personnel who use this gate, reduced flexibility within the 14 Wing Greenwood contracted services budget envelope has necessitated the permanent closure of this gate.

Personnel are reminded this gate closure will result in increased traffic levels at the main gate, the Residential Housing Units' gate and Checkpoint Charlie during the normal working hours and should plan their travel accordingly.

Fermeture de l'entrée arrière du 1er juillet

À compter du 1er juillet, l'entrée arrière de la ZOA sera définitivement fermée à la circulation du matin et de l'après-midi.

Bien qu'il soit reconnu que cela est d'une grande convenance pour les personnes qui utilisent cette entrée, c'est la souplesse réduite dans la gestion de l'enveloppe budgétaire des services contractuels de l'escadre qui a rendu nécessaire la fermeture permanente de l'entrée.

Il convient de rappeler aux membres du personnel que cette fermeture entraînera, durant les heures normales de travail, une hausse des niveaux de trafic à l'entrée principale, à l'entrée des unités de logement résidentiel et au poste de contrôle « Checkpoint Charlie », et qu'ils doivent planifier leurs déplacements en conséquence.

Run that runway!

Captain Maggie LaBerge

14 Wing Greenwood's sixth Run the Runway event is this Friday, June 28. Open to all serving and retired military and defence team members and their families, this event supports Wing Commander Colonel Jim Irvine's ongoing commitment to the health and wellness of his 14 Wing team, and serving members abroad.

Last year's run had approximately 650 participants, and organizers hope to build on this through inter unit/ squadron challenges, or simply inviting repeat participants to bring along their co-workers and family.

As the event will be held on a Friday, participants are encouraged to wear red as part of the Support the Troops campaign. Red Support the Troops T-shirts will be sold during registration by the Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre for anyone would like to purchase one. A freewill offering may be made at the registration site and at the post event reception in support of the Soldier On program.

Registration will begin at 10 a.m. to the rear of the Air Movements building, with the start at 10:30 a.m., led by Irvine. Participants are invited to walk or run either the 2.5 kilometre or five kilometre route on the base's runway 30/12. Post-event refreshments and closing remarks by the wing commander will be offered at the Fitness & Sports Centre.

Come one, come all: challenge yourself to a healthier lifestyle!

Navy on the move for kids

Sara Keddy,

"All my sailors" couldn't have been treated better on a rainy June 12, as they were treated to breakfast by Betty Hebb at her family's restaurant in Millville.

Hebb, a long-time and well-known Children's Wish Foundation supporter, opened the Farmer's Family Diner dark and early to get crewmembers from HMCS Halifax fed and on their way. The dozen personnel were set to start day three of a two-week run from Yarmouth to Sydney, raising funds for their ship's adopted charity, also the CWF.

"Day three – so far, so good," said Sub-lieutenant Jeremy Arsenault. "Everyone's still excited, and there are no major injuries!"

This is the 10th anniversary of the ship's run, which started June 10 and will wrap up June 21 as the team ends up back in their Halifax dockyard. Most days, they'll have run around 10 kilometres in relays, from two donated vans decorated with CWF logos, Navy insignia and the picture of Caden, a three-year-old heading to Disneyland on his wish to see Lightning McQueen and other Cars movie characters.

"Thirty thousand dollars is our goal," Arsenault said, "so we can send Caden and also two others. Last year, we raised $25,000, so you've got to up the bar."

The ship's crew spends a year on the effort, from raffles, a car wash and 50/ 50 draws and "every little bit of change;" and end with the run. They spend a lot of time promoting the run itself through social media to reach a wider network.

June 11, before they bedded down at 14 Wing Greenwood's barracks, the Navy team visited bingo at the Kingston Legion and passed the hat. Arsenault says the 160 players "treated us so well – they gave us the 50/ 50 and the Legion matched the donations, and we raised $613."

The bingo players also had great things to say about Hebb, once they found out where the runner's next day breakfast was going to be held.

"This has been fantastic," said Petty Officer First Class Jamie Abthorpe.

Everyone's been treating the runners well, from donating gas cards for their support vans to dropping $50 in their collection roadside.

"One lady, I think she's had someone have a wish granted. She saw us and drove ahead and stopped and waited for us – that's pretty neat," said Abthorpe.

Petty Officer First Class Jamie Abthorpe, left, Children's Wish Foundation volunteer Betty Hebb and Petty Officer Second Class Bruce Bragg after a breakfast send-off from Hebb's family restaurant in Millville. The Navy team was heading out June 12 on day three of its week-long run from Yarmouth to Sydney for the charity.

"We're working as a team," said Hebb, "and it's fun to have them for breakfast. I look forward to them coming – and I'll pack them a goodies bag to go!"

Volunteers Ernie Supple, left, Bill Fraser and George Kriisk share their years of knowledge and experience with students visiting the Greenwood Military Aviation Museum through the flight education program. Submitted

Over 700 years of service, shared with students

Connie Weinberg

Canada has a strong and proud military heritage. Since before the First World War, thousands of Canadians have been called upon in the cause of peace. Many have sacrificed their lives. Other sacrifices have also been made by those serving, and by the families they support. These men and women gave of themselves for a peaceful, secure future for generations to come. Today, and for the past 11 years, a number of these men and women volunteer to educate Grade 6 students through a Flight Education Program hosted by the Greenwood Military Aviation Museum at 14 Wing Greenwood. After 11 years, this program has seen over 5,000 students, teachers and adult escorts from 14 different schools participate.

I'm a retired teacher of 35 years with the Annapolis Valley Regional School Board in Nova Scotia. For the last 11 years, I have been privileged to be a participant in a Flight Education Program at the Greenwood Military Aviation Museum (GMAM).

Through a conversation I had with Lloyd Graham, a retired Air Force navigator, I expressed what a shame it was a wonderful resource like the museum was not being used by our schools, given that flight education is a part of the Grade 6 curriculum. Graham found the Nova Scotia Department of Education curriculum outline, and used it as a guide, with a team of aircrew volunteers, to develop the Flight Education Program at the museum. The museum's program depends upon the exceptional commitment of some 23 volunteer instructors, mainly retired aircrew augmented by some active duty air and ground crew and civilian personnel from 14 Wing Greenwood, who all bring a wide range of expertise in such areas as long-range patrol, fighter and helicopter operations. The volunteers through the 2012/2013 school year share a combined total of 721.5 years of military service and 153,175.2 flying hours.

Wednesdays mornings at the museum, January through April, volunteer instructors make a commitment of about 35 hours training, mentoring and instructing visiting students. Sixty students are guided through six stations, covering theory of flight, the Cold War era, over 70 years of military personnel and aviation history at 14 Wing Greenwood, search and rescue systems and concepts, aircraft design and engineering and aircraft detection system technology. The students are immersed and engaged in every aspect of flight education. Everything runs with military precision and, as a teacher, that is much appreciated!

Once back in the classroom, students are asked to reflect on their museum experience and write letters to the instructors. Some come in the form of cards, which can be very creative and always fun to read. Student's comments include, "I didn't realize we had Canadian heroes - I thought they were all American," "I didn't understand what drag was until we actually touched the machine," "When I got there, I didn't know much about flight. I asked a lot of questions and learned more about flight. I guess you learn from asking questions" and "Thanks for teaching us about Greenwood's base. For once, I knew what my dad was talking about when he got home from work."

In 2012 the program expanded to include 55 teachers and staff from West Kings District High School, with a two-hour tour followed by lunch at the Annapolis Mess. In the afternoon, the group visited 404 (Long Range Patrol and Training) Squadron and the air traffic control section. Grade 11 and 12 students from West Kings will soon visit the museum in support of their studies on the Cold War. Grade 8 students will study the Second World War, and a group of Tech Ed students plan to tour the reconstructed Anson aircraft, Bolingbroke Bomber renovation and Spewer (Unmanned Aerial Vehicle) restoration.

Not included in the winter museum program is a tour of the outdoor Air Park, with its Lancaster, Neptune, Argus, T33 jet and Labrador helicopter. Commemorative gardens overlook the grounds and contain squadron/ unit memorials in recognition of significant events, and individual commemorative stones for those who have served at 14 Wing Greenwood.

The Greenwood Military Aviation Museum has given Valley schools experiences in technology, flight and history. It is never difficult to get a volunteer to share their experiences. I don't think I have ever seen such dedication and commitment, and this opportunity is priceless. Now that I am retired, I get to "hang out" with these exceptional people on program days. I have an even greater respect for the instructors and the time they spend with the students - I also enjoy seeing how much fun they have!

Thanks to the staff of the Greenwood Military Aviation Museum and, particularly, all the volunteer instructors who have made this educational experience possible for students. If you are interested in additional information on the museum, visit <http://gmam.ca/> or the Facebook page, <https://www.facebook.com/GMAM.CA>.

Établir des liens uniques au 14 EGC

Sara Keddy,
Rédactrice en chef

Le major Sarah House voulait obtenir un travail au 14^e Escadron du génie construction à Bridgewater dès 2003. Sur le point de quitter les fonctions de commandant qu'elle occupe depuis 2010, elle dit que c'est « le meilleur travail qu'elle a jamais eu ».

« La branche du génie va me manquer », dit-elle en parlant de son transfert au Centre de guerre aérospatiale à la BFC Trenton. « C'est très différent de la fille de terrain que je suis vraiment. »

Le Maj House est la première à avouer que le 14 EGC est un « étrange mélange » : l'unité « recrute, forme et emploie » quelque 210 membres de la Réserve à Bridgewater (quartier général), Pictou et Gander, et relève dans une certaine mesure de la 14^e Escadre Greenwood.

« Ça a été vraiment fantastique – j'ai voyagé dans toutes les provinces de l'Atlantique. »

L'Escadron met à profit les talents de réservistes provenant de plusieurs combinaisons de groupes professionnels, et le Maj House s'est concentré sur le passage du soutien traditionnel aux transports et aux travaux de réparation des dommages subis par les aérodromes aux « choses que nous faisons vraiment » : les conduites d'eau, les logements, l'électricité et les toilettes – les choses qui vous manquent quand vous ne les avez pas. « Les équipes peuvent être assignées dans la région ou un peu partout dans le monde pour quelques semaines seulement ou pour des déploiements pouvant durer jusqu'à neuf mois, afin d'appuyer les FAC en général en s'occupant d'éléments de l'infrastructure de base. Les groupes professionnels des mécaniciens et des opérateurs de machinerie lourde sont en demande.

« Je leur ai demandé pourquoi ils ne se joignent pas à la Force régulière, et ils ont dit qu'ils n'auraient pas de déploements aussi souvent. Nous sommes tellement gâtés de pouvoir compter sur ces gens si près de nous dans les FAC : le 14 EGC est la solution de choix du GC depuis si longtemps », de dire le Maj House, en décrivant la capacité de l'Escadron de construire un entrepôt dans les conditions rigoureuses de l'Arctique à Resolute Bay en l'espace de six mois – à partir de rien et en ayant à apporter par avion chaque sac de ciment, chaque outil et chaque feuille de tôle – quand il était prévu que cela allait prendre un an, d'ériger des hangars à Kandahar et d'aménager des pistes d'entraînement à Gander.

Il y a quelques défis : organiser les horaires de la main-d'œuvre de la Réserve en tenant compte des responsabilités civiles et des engagements de l'Escadron est un casse-tête logistique. Les réductions des heures de la Réserve ajoutent aux pressions. Et avec des heures réduites, le personnel de la Réserve pourrait partir pour la

Submitted

Force régulière ou des emplois civils à temps plus complet. Le 14 EGC travaille toujours à « essayer de nouvelles façons » de former ses spécialistes. L'une des plus importantes occasions de ce faire passe par les conseils consultatifs communautaires de l'Escadre : un groupe à but non lucratif fournit les matériaux pour un projet qui répond aux exigences du conseil; le 14 EGC fournit la main-d'œuvre compétente – et ses gens obtiennent leurs qualifications grâce à la formation sur le tas.

« À Pictou, il n'y avait pas d'abri pour les itinérants. Ils nous ont demandé si nous pouvions rénover le sous-sol d'une vieille église – la plomberie, une cuisine, des chambres à coucher? À Gander, ils voulaient de l'aménagement paysager et des belvédères pour un jardin de la guérison à l'hôpital. Nos équipes savent ce qu'elles font lorsqu'elles travaillent à ces projets, et elles sont tellement axées sur la communauté qu'elles trouvent toujours des façons d'en faire plus.

« Nous bâtissons un capital de bonne volonté. »

Avec son affectation à Trenton, le Maj House, son époux qui est pompier militaire et leurs deux jeunes filles sont excités à l'idée de faire partie de la communauté d'une plus grande base, avec sa vie sociale, ses ressources et toute la camaraderie au travail. Elle s'ennuiera toutefois de sa « famille » très unie du 14 EGC, de la présence très pratique de ses parents qui vivent tout près à Mahone Bay et de la chance encore plus grande qu'elle a eu au cours des quelques dernières d'être le « patron » de son père.

« Il travaille dans le génie construction, et il travaille pour moi – ils savaient très bien qu'il était ici lorsqu'ils m'ont envoyé ici. J'imagine que c'est pourquoi mon père, lorsqu'il a appris que je m'en venais, a accepté une affectation de neuf mois en Afghanistan! »

Le Maj House est fier de sa relation unique avec son père : ils ont tous les deux fait carrière dans le même groupe professionnel, et ils ont tous les deux rencontré des gens qui ont travaillé avec ou pour l'autre. Son père prend sa retraite cet été.

« Je pense qu'il est fier de moi et de ce que j'ai accompli – Je mentirais si j'étais trop modeste. »

Building unique links in 14 CES

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

Major Sarah House angled for a job with 14 Construction Engineering Squadron in Bridgewater as early as 2003. Finishing now, as commanding officer since 2010, she calls it "the best job ever."

"I'll miss the engineering branch," she says describing her move to CFB Trenton to the aerospace warfare centre. "That's very different from the out-of-the-office gal I really am."

14 CES is a "weird mesh," House is the first to say: the unit "recruits, trains and deploys" up to 210 Reserve members in Bridgewater (headquarters), Pictou and Gander; and falls under the eye of 14 Wing Greenwood.

"This has been really great – I've travelled the Atlantic provinces."

The squadron draws on Reserve talents in many combinations of trades, and House's focus was to transition from more traditional transport and airfield damage repair support to "what we really do: water lines, housing, electrical and toilets – the stuff you miss when you don't have it." Crews could be tasked at home or around the world for a few weeks at a time to nine-month deployments, supporting the wider CAF with basic infrastructure. Mechanical and heavy equipment operator trades are in demand.

"I ask them why they wouldn't join the Regular force, and they say they wouldn't get the deployments so often. We have been so spoiled to have these people so at hand in the CAF: 14 CES has been the 'easy button' for CE for so long," House says, describing the squadron's ability to build a warehouse in Arctic conditions in Resolute Bay in six months, from scratch and flying in every bag of cement, tool and sheet of steel – when it was expected to take a year; hangars in Kandahar and training runways in Gander.

There are a few challenges: scheduling the Reserve work-force around civilian responsibilities and squadron commitments is a logistical puzzle. Reserve hour reductions adds pressure. And, with reduced hours, Reserve personnel may leave, for the Regular force or fuller civilian employment. 14 CES is always "trying to find unique ways" for its specialists to train. One of the most significant opportunities to make that happen comes through the squadron's community advisory boards: a non-profit group provides materials for a project that meets the board's requirements; 14 CES supplies skilled labour – and qualifies its people through the on-the-job training.

"In Pictou, there was no homeless shelter. They asked, could we renovate the basement of an old church – plumbing, a kitchen, some bedrooms? In Gander, they were looking for landscaping and gazebos for a healing garden at the hospital.

Our crews know what they're doing when they're on those projects, and they're so community-focused they'll always find ways to do more.

"We're building goodwill."

With the Trenton posting, House, her military firefighter husband and two young daughters are excited to become part of a larger base community, with its social life, resources and workplace camaraderie. What she'll miss is the tight-knit 14 CES "family," the handy connections with her parents, who live in nearby Mahone Bay; and the even closer chance she's had in 14 Wing Fire & Protective Services summed up a year of work June 4 with a presentation of funds to the Atlantic Chapter of Muscular Dystrophy Canada. Chapter rep Shelley McWilliams visited the firefighters to collect $2,584.68, raised by all wing personnel through the firefighters' fundraising projects. Campaign lead Sergeant Rodney Densmore, left, Corporal Joel Holmes, McWilliams and Fire Chief Captain Bruce Paradis and the team are shown. McWilliams says the funds will be used to support families through equipment purchases and specialized programs – work that couldn't happen without the long standing efforts of firefighters over the past 60 years. "It's nice to have them think of us," McWilliams said.

14 Wing Library | Serving those who read

Judy McCool and
Joanne Sealby
14 Wing Greenwood Library

Summer is here and it's time to start thinking about relaxing with a new book. Jeffrey Archer's "Best Kept Secret," the third in the mesmerizing saga of the Clifton and Barrington families is now in the library. It continues their story in 1945 London. The vote in the House of Lords as to who should inherit the Barrington family fortune has ended in a tie. The lord chancellor's deciding vote will cast a long shadow on the lives of Harry Clifton and Giles Barrington. Harry returns to America to promote his latest novel, while his beloved Emma goes in search of the little girl found abandoned in her father's office the night he was killed. When the general election is called, Barrington has to defend his seat and is horrified to discover who the Conservatives select to stand against him. It is Sebastian Clifton, Harry and Emma's son, who ultimately influences his uncle's fate. John Le Carre's latest novel, "A Delicate Truth," is about a counterterrorist operation code-named Wildlife being mounted on the British crown colony of Gibraltar to capture and abduct a high value jihadist arms buyer. The authors are an ambitious foreign office minister, a private defense contractor who is also his bosom friend and a shady American CIA operative of the evangelical far right. So delicate is the operation, even the minister's private secretary is not cleared. This latest offering from Le Carre is about deception and skulduggery at the highest levels of government and the secret service. If you have been posted and have any books you would like to donate to the library, we would be happy to receive them. The only stipulation is they be in good condition and fairly new. We do not accept textbooks, Reader's Digest condensed novels or old National Geographics. Please also check you have returned any library books before you leave, and pay any outstanding library fines. On your next visit, check out our display of "summer" reading titles. Holidays, time spent at the beach or in a hammock always calls for a good book. Just a reminder as well we are into our summer hours: we are not open Sundays until October. You may also check out our database of books at <http://opac.libraryworld.com> and log in with the name "14 Wing Library" - no password is required. The 14 Wing Library is open to for military and public readers.

Bibliothèque de la 14^e Escadre | Au service des lecteurs

Judy McCool et
Joanne Sealby
Bibliothèque de la 14^e
Escadre Greenwood

L'été est arrivé et c'est maintenant le temps de penser à vous détendre en lisant un nouveau livre. Le troisième tome de la Chronique des Clifton, Seul l'avenir nous le dira, de Jeffrey Archer, la saga fascinante qui relate l'histoire des familles Clifton et Barrington, est maintenant disponible à la bibliothèque (en anglais seulement). Nous sommes maintenant en 1945, à Londres. Le vote qui s'est tenu dans la Chambre des lords pour déterminer à qui sera léguée la fortune de la famille Barrington s'est conclu par une égalité des voix. Le vote décisif du lord Chancelier jettera une ombre sur la vie d'Harry Clifton et de Giles Barrington. Harry rentre en Amérique pour faire la promotion de son nouveau livre pendant qu'Emma, sa bien-aimée, part à la recherche de la fillette abandonnée qu'on a découverte dans le bureau de son père la nuit qu'il a été tué. À l'annonce de la tenue de l'élection générale, Giles Barrington doit défendre son siège et est horrifié lorsqu'il découvre le candidat que les conservateurs ont choisi pour l'affronter. C'est Sebastian Clifton, le fils d'Harry et d'Emma, qui ultimement, influencera le destin de son oncle. Le dernier roman de John Le Carre, A Delicate Truth (en anglais seulement), porte sur une opération antiterroriste du nom de code Wildlife, menée sur le territoire de Gibraltar, une colonie de la Couronne britannique, afin de capturer et d'enlever un acheteur d'armes jihadiste d'une grande importance. Les auteurs sont un ministre ambitieux du Foreign Office, un entrepreneur en défense et ami intime du ministre, et un agent secret américain du CIA peu recommandable, membre de l'extrême-droite évangélique. L'opération est si délicate que même le secrétaire particulier du ministre est tenu à l'écart. Ce dernier roman de Le Carre porte sur la déception et la fourberie aux plus hauts niveaux du gouvernement et au service secret. Si vous avez été affectés et aimeriez faire don de vos livres à la bibliothèque, nous serons heureux de les ajouter à notre collection. Nous demandons seulement à ce qu'ils soient relativement récents et en bon état. Nous n'acceptons pas les manuels, les versions abrégées de romans du Reader's Digest et les vieux magazines National Geographics. Avant de partir, veuillez également retourner tous les livres que vous avez empruntés à la bibliothèque et payer vos amendes. Lors de votre prochaine visite, ne manquez pas de jeter un coup d'œil à notre présentoir de « lectures d'été ». C'est le temps, lorsque vous êtes en vacances, à la plage ou dans un hamac, de plonger dans un bon livre. N'oubliez pas que nous respectons un horaire d'été et que nous sommes fermés le dimanche et ce, jusqu'en octobre. N'hésitez pas à consulter notre base de données sur les livres à <http://opac.libraryworld.com>, en ouvrant une session et en inscrivant « 14 Wing Library ». Aucun mot de passe n'est requis. La bibliothèque de la 14^e Escadre est ouverte aux militaires et au public en général.

We have a very important mission here at 14 Wing, for the Royal Canadian Air Force and for the Canadian Armed Forces, and all the people who make that happen are absolutely critical." Many of the civilian staff are represented by the Union of National Defence Employees or the Professional Institute of the Public Service of Canada.

14 Wing Greenwood Commander Colonel Jim Irvine served up cake and coffee June 13 in the Annapolis Mess, hosting a morning break for the base's public service workers. Choquette, Deutsch make N.S. Canada Games swim team

Adam Deutsch of Kingston and Eveline Choquette of Auburn have been named to the 24-member provincial swim team for the 2013 Canada Games in Sherbrooke, Quebec this August.

These athletes put in grueling hours of practice when children their age are still in bed at 5 a.m., or are hanging out with friends after school; putting in the necessary training hours – up to 12 per week – and metres to be the elite athletes they are. Deutsch is a Grade 11 student at West Kings District High School and Choquette is a Grade 8 student at École Rose des Vents in Greenwood. Both are members of the Wolfville Tritons Swim Team, but began their swimming careers with the Greenwood Dolphins. Because of the love of the sport instilled in them when they began, they have been able to continue competing and training to higher levels. Canada's most successful Olympic swimmers all were members of their respective provincial Canada Games teams, a fact not lost on these two athletes, who compete regularly in the same competitions as David Sharpe; Nova Scotia's 2012 Olympic swimmer.

Fun By The Numbers Level: Beginner

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20
Patience is necessary this week, Aries. Without it, you will grow frustrated quickly over the course of several days. Relax and make the most of the situation.

Expect to feel energetic and enthusiastic this week, Taurus. You may not know the source of all this energy and optimism, but that's irrelevant as long as you enjoy these feelings.

GEMINI - May 22/Jun 21
You may be feeling a little psychic lately, Gemini. Give your insights the benefit of the doubt and try to understand the message that is being conveyed.

CANCER - Jun 22/Jul 22
Some intellectual conversation has you aiming for bigger and better things, Cancer. You may start a few creative projects as a result of these discussions.

LEO - Jul 23/Aug 23
Leo, don't be surprised if some changes regarding your career come your way this week. A raise, promotion or a new job may be on the horizon. Embrace these changes.

Libra, sheer luck that brings strange and wonderful things is in the big picture this week. The things that you have been wishing or dreaming of just may come true.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22
Scorpio, a business or romantic partner brings good news your way. This news erases a funk that you have been in. The news may help you resume a goal you had abandoned.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21
Sagittarius, don't worry about an upcoming doctor's visit. You may just get a clean bill of health from your doctor this week. This will definitely ease up some stress.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20
You are full of creative energy, Capricorn, and must turn it into projects that may help you to earn some money in the near future. Get started while you are motivated.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18
Expect some news that sheds light on a difficult issue that you have been trying to resolve, Aquarius. You may feel so relieved that a celebration is in order.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20
Exciting changes are coming, and they all center around you, Pisces. It may be embarrassing being the center of attention, but try to enjoy it.

Princess party

Eleven young "princesses" attended a tea party morning at the Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre June 18. They dressed the part and were given the royal treatment through crafts, photographs, some singing and other activities.

Greenwood heavyweights dominate bench press challenge

Master Corporal
Brian George,
406 (M) OTS

May 3, the Formation Bench Challenge took place at 12 Wing Shearwater, with 18 powerlifters.

In the men's lightweight category, 12 Wing's Master Corporal Rob Smith dominated, lifting twice his body weight and winning the lightweight bench press for reps competition. Corporal Nathan Justice from 14 Wing Greenwood placed second, lifting more than one-and-a-half times his body weight.

The middleweights had a good battle between Leading Seman Donnie O'Leary from Halifax and Corporal Marc Pinche from 14 Wing.

Pinche benched more, but O'Leary's bench was a better pound-for-pound lift. O'Leary also won the bench press for reps competition, narrowly squeaking past Pinche with two reps.

14 Wing Greenwood dominated the heavyweights, with Corporal Mike Pittman the top bencher, hoisting the biggest bench in pounds for the day. Master Corporal Rob Snow had the second biggest bench in pounds.

The best overall pound-for-pound bench was claimed by Smith, followed closely by Pittman.

Many thanks to the 12 Wing Powerlifting Team for helping set up this challenge. The Powerlifting Regional Invitational is held late fall.
