Hockey milestone

Retired military men still playing the game

Sara Keddy,
Managing editor

Over 140 years of hockey, and these two are still on the ice.

John Charest, Berwick, who retired (many years ago) after 21 years as an air force clerk admin sergeant, marked his 80th birthday with a scrimmage and aftergame beverage January 16. Bob Holmes, Greenwood, stayed in the area following 31 years in the air force as an airframe technician (he retired as a warrant officer); he skated past the same 80th birthday milestone in October.

"I've got more pains and aches, sure, but if I wasn't playing it'd be worse," Charest said.

"This keeps me moving. It's the highlight of my life, playing hockey – besides my wife!"

Both agree what makes hockey nowadays – no contact, lots of subbing, afternoon ice times – so enjoyable is the rest of the gang on the ice with them. The Berwick shinny crowd includes a few dozen regulars, anywhere from the "youngsters" at age 50 to Charest and Holmes in the octogenarian era. They play at the Kings Mutual Century Centre Mondays and Thursdays at 2:30 p.m. by drop-in collection.

"It's the atmosphere – we're all friends," Charest said.

Holmes, a regular player with the Greenwood-based Valley Golden Oldies, says he still speaks with servicemen he played hockey with throughout his military career.

"You're friends for life," Holmes says, recalling his May 1965 championship win with 1 Wing Aero in France (five games won of seven) over 4 Wing Aero, and several intersection league titles in Trenton. Charest played wherever he was posted as well, including Washington and four provinces.

Skate, outdoor fun celebrates winter

Winter has arrived, and that means Nova Scotia's "Take the Roof off Winter" campaign is underway.

This winter active campaign is designed to help Nova Scotians of all ages improve their health and quality of life by being outdoors and active this winter. Recreation Nova Scotia has partnered with the Nova Scotia Department of Health and Wellness to challenge communities, schools, businesses and others to build more physical activity into daily routines.

The 14 Wing Greenwood Community Centre is a registered Take the Roof off Winter supporter, and will partner with the Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre to offer a free skate January 31, 3 p.m. to 4 p.m., at the Greenwood Gardens Arena. Military and defence team members and their families, along with Community Recreation Card holders, are challenged to get active and enjoy the afternoon.

An outdoor family fun event will follow the skate. Please join us in the Apple Bowl on Church Street at 4:15 p.m. for a high tech treasure hunt. Have you ever wondered about geocaching? Come try it - use our GPS or bring your own - to find hidden treasure and win prizes!

Please call Kelly Aucoin at 765-1494 local 5337 or Leona Conrick at the GMFRC at 765-5611 for more information. For information about Take the Roof off Winter, visit <http://www.taketheroofoffwinter.ca/>.

Family day

Brothers Samuel Joseph Dumoulin (18), left, and William Richard Dumoulin (19) were sworn in at the Canadian Forces Recruiting Centre in Halifax January 14. Samuel enters the Royal Canadian Air Force as an avionics systems technician, while William is going into the Canadian Army as an army communication information systems specialist. Both graduated from West Kings, and will depart for CFLRS St. Jean by the end of January to begin basic training and start their military careers. The Dumoulin family are the children of 14 Wing Greenwood Sergeant John Dumoulin, a loadmaster with 413 (Transport and Rescue) Squadron, and Mercedes Dumoulin, and continue a family military service tradition represented by great-grandfathers, grandfathers, uncles and cousins. Friends and family wish them well.

Anniversaire du CRFMG

Le CRFMG a ouvert ses portes en 1986 dans une vieille maison de ferme appelée « Ivy Mansion » avec l'adjudant-chef Fred Illingworth, des conjointes de militaires et des bénévoles donnaient de l'information générale et offraient des services d'aiguillage aux familles.

Au fil des ans, le centre a continué à se développer et à offrir une multitude de programmes et de services aux familles des militaires de la 14e Escadre. Aujourd'hui, l'aide offerte par le CRFMG prend diverses formes : aide à la rédaction de c.v. étude des possibilités de formation, cours sur l'art d'être parent et activités amusantes et éducatives tant pour les jeunes que pour les adultes. Le CRFMG offre des cours de langue seconde et des activités pour les francophones, une panoplie de ressources et des services de consultation et d'intervention en cas de crise. Les possibilités de bénévolat sont nombreuses si vous voulez contribuer au bien-être de votre communauté, apprendre de nouvelles compétences ou créer de nouveaux liens. Le CRFMG a ouvert une halte-garderie il y a trois ans et depuis l'automne 2013, des programmes de prématernelle sont également offerts.

Le 26 janvier, nous soulignerons le 28e anniversaire du CRFM de Greenwood. Pour rendre hommage à notre passé et célébrer notre avenir, venez-vous joindre à nous le vendredi 24 janvier, à 10 h, au CRFMG (durant l'activité Vendredi entre amis). Nous offrirons du café et du gâteau. C'est avec fierté que nous comptons continuer à célébrer et à soutenir les formidables familles de la 14e Escadre Greenwood au cours des 28 prochaines années!

GMFRC anniversary

The Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre started out in 1986 in an old farmhouse called the "Ivy Mansion," with spouses and volunteers offering basic information and referral services to families.

Over the years, the centre has continued to grow and offer a multitude of services and programs for the military families of 14 Wing. Today, the GMFRC offers assistance with creating resumes, exploring educational opportunities, parenting classes and fun and educational classes for both youth and adults. The GMFRC offers second language classes and activities for franco-phone families, counselling, crisis intervention and resources are offered; along with a wide variety of volunteer opportunities for anyone looking to give back to the community, learn new skills or want to meet new people. Three years ago the GMFRC opened a new casual childcare centre and, in the fall of 2013, the GMFRC preschool programs opened.

January 26 marks the 28th anniversary of the Greenwood MFRFC. To honour our past and to celebrate our future, please join us for cake and coffee January 24 at 10 a.m. at the GMFRC (during Friendly Friday). We look forward to the next 28 years of celebrating and supporting the wonderful families of 14 Wing Greenwood!

Familiar face leaves Greenwood

Corporal Gerald Cormier & Sara Keddy

Eric MacKenzie, community recreation coordinator in 14 Wing Greenwood, accepted the Commanding Officer's Coin as a parting gift and thank you for his six-plus years of service from Commander Colonel Iain Huddleston, January 10.

MacKenzie has accepted a role as the new national recreation coordinator in Ottawa, his next step within the Personnel Support Program. His duties will include supporting all bases in existing and new recreation programs.

In Greenwood, there was hardly a community event that did not feature MacKenzie's smiling face and enthusiasm: "It really is about 'People Serving People,'" as MacKenzie expressed to Huddleston. "I will miss the hands-on community involvement - things like running in the rain during the Terry Fox run."

MacKenzie often volunteered his own time to organize and take part in community events and groups. He was an active member of the Greenwood Player's Theatre Group, gracing the stage with his infectious personality, humour and work ethic; as both

14 Wing Greenwood Commander Colonel Iain Huddleston presented the Commanding Officer's coin to Eric MacKenzie, community recreation coordinator, January 10, prior to MacKenzie's departure for a new role as national recreation coordinator in Ottawa. a prince in "Snow White" and an overworked, hallucinating businessman in "There Goes the Bride."

At a farewell event at the Greenwood Bowling Centre later January 10, co-workers, friends and recreation community professionals from Digby to West Hants were on hand for some shared memories, well wishes and, of course, teasing.

MacKenzie's boss, community recreation director Jill Jackson, went through her "top-14" things the community centre will miss about MacKenzie, including his impressions, his daily "guess the symptoms" game, seeing MacKenzie's picture in The Aurora Newspaper every week, his Tragically Hip singing efforts, fine manners and more.

"The community centre is really a small section - about four or five of us, and we grow to be quite a family," Jackson said. "We look out for each other, and Eric has been more than a co-worker: he's been a friend, and like a brother."

Margaret Reid, director of the Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre, which partners often with the community centre on wider programs, presented MacKenzie with a "Spirit of Military Families" coin set, truly "recognizing the strength behind the uniform" MacKenzie represented in the 14 Wing community.

"I'm looking forward to the next chapter," MacKenzie said, "but I'm not ready to leave in a way because this place is home - the feeling of family is really embraced, and there has been endless kindness and patience for me. It is always near and dear to my heart to be serving those who serve - and it doesn't feel like work if it's what you want to do."

Retirement marks 33-plus year career

Lieutenant Amanda Dornan

Sergeant Wade Seymour retired from the Canadian Armed Forces in December, after 33-and-a-half years of dedicated service in both the Regular Force and Air Reserve.

During his extensive time as a traffic technician and, later, a loadmaster, he and his wife, Mary Ellen, were posted to Canadian Forces Base Cornwallis, National Defence Head Quarters Ottawa, 2 Air Movements Squadron Trenton, 436 Squadron Trenton, Canadian Forces Base Borden and 14 Wing Greenwood. His knowledge and experience has been a great asset to the traffic technician trade and to the Canadian Armed Forces.

Throughout his service, he travelled extensively on operations and exercises, attending Exercise Brave Lion Norway in 1986, Exercise Box

Top Thule Greenland in 1987, Operation Matador Namibia in 1989 and Operation Deliverance Somalia in 1993. He has traveled to every province in Canada, as well as to the United States, Europe and the Middle East while flying as a CC130 Hercules loadmaster.

Over the past 25 years, he has volunteered extensively with his church in various positions, including member-at-large, vice-president and president in Trenton, Borden and Greenwood. He has served on parish council as junior warden, senior warden and senate delegate in Summerside and Berwick.

The Seymours will remain in the Greenwood area, where Seymour will continue to work closely with his church.

Transportation and Electrical and Mechanical Engineering Squadron members would like to wish Wade and Mary Ellen the very best.

Wing Logistics Engineering Commanding Officer Lieutenant-Colonel Brian Richardson, left, congratulates Sergeant Wade Seymour as he recently retired from a 33-plus year career.

Youth Happenings

Rebecca Dillman,
Recreation youth worker

Hi everyone! My name is Rebecca Dillman and I am your new 14 Wing Greenwood Community Centre recreation youth worker while Lindsay is off.

I am 22 years old and was born in Kentville, where I grew up with my older brother and mother. I graduated from Northeast Kings and continued at UPEI, where I spent two years studying before I realized I missed the Valley and returned to finish my degree at Acadia University. I graduated with a Bachelors of Arts in Sociology with a minor in English. In September, I married my wonderful husband, Ryan, in Kingston: we are both new to the Greenwood area, but are really enjoying our surroundings. In my free time, I enjoy soccer, going to the gym, spending time with my friends and family and, most of all, playing with our dogs. We have two Great Danes - our pride and joy!

I have always enjoyed working with children, and worked as a summer day camp leader in Kentville for two years and here on base two years ago. I am very excited to plan some fun events in the upcoming months, and I look forward to meeting you and your children! If you have any questions, comments, ideas or thoughts, please don't hesitate to call me

Discover the magic of radio

Greenwood Amateur Radio Club

The Greenwood Amateur Radio Club will conduct a course on Monday evenings for those interested in obtaining an amateur radio license.

Amateur radio is a hobby and public service provided by millions of people around the world fascinated by the magic of radio. Amateur radio operators, often called hams, are licensed to use a wide range of frequencies and operating modes, including voice, Morse Code, television and digital keyboard modes. The signals themselves can be transmitted around the world. Shortwave frequencies reach long distances because of the ionosphere in the Earth's upper atmosphere, but hams also bounce signals off meteor trails, the surface of the Moon and even their own satellites. Operators come from all walks of life, from high school students to Nobel Prize winners. Most astronauts are hams, and operate from the International Space Station whenever their duties permit. One of the most important aspects of amateur radio is emergency communications. In times of disaster, hams are often the only way to get critical messages through to authorities. In Nova Scotia, this has included communications support for such disasters as the crash of Swissair Flight 111, forest fires, evacuations, ice storms, floods and medical emergencies. To become an amateur radio operator in Canada, one must pass a 100-question, multiple choice exam, administered by Industry Canada. The exam covers basic electronics, radio propagation, transmission lines, antennas, receiver and transmitter design, operating a station and regulations. While this may sound intimidating, the textbook and course explain everything in easy-to-understand terms. While Morse Code is still very popular, it is not necessary to know to obtain a license.

The Greenwood club's course will be held Monday evenings, 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m., at the 14 Wing Greenwood Community Centre, beginning January 27 and finishing April 28. The course is open to anyone and everyone (military and community members). The cost of the course is $65, which covers the textbook, photocopying and membership in the Greenwood club. Discounts are available for those who have a recent edition of the Basic Qualification Study Guide (Coax Publications), or who have several members of one family who can easily share a single textbook. The instructors are all experienced hams and have

Fun By The Numbers

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

as much support as it can get, at www.krafthockeyville.cbc.ca.

The Hockeyville effort comes as the community works on phase two funding and repairs at the rink: a concrete floor replacement, coolant piping within the floor, a header to the plant, boards, glass and safety netting will cost big bucks to finish, and ensure the rink is able to continue. The community fundraising goal is $220,000, and volunteers have reached the $100,000 mark.

Continuing with the effort, 500 tickets are being sold now for a February 1 draw for a hot tub, donated by JC's Hot Tubs & Pools.

A fundraising dinner will be held February 1 at the Annapolis Mess, 14 Wing Greenwood, with a Meadowbrook Meats pig roast dinner, live and silent auctions and a concert featuring Halifax's Big Fish. The dinner will be sponsored by many local businesses.

The wider public donation campaign continues as well. For information on the campaign and any of these events, contact Wayne Fowler, president, Credit Union Centre (Kingston arena), 765-2516; or visit www.wkaa.ca/.
