Aurora crews coming home

With the news November 17 Canada is adjusting its Operation Impact Air Task Force contributions, 14 Wing Greenwood's CP140 Aurora, air and support crew will be coming home.

Colonel Mike Adamson told personnel at a recent town hall "all our crews and people will be back in Greenwood by Christmas, and we will have removed our footprint in the Middle East."

Canada remains committed to the international effort to defeat of Daesh, leaving in place an Air Mobility Detachment with one CC150 Polaris aerial refueling aircraft and, now, two CC130J Hercules aircraft, a tactical helicopter detachment with up to four CH146 Griffons, a medical facility, personnel working to train and advise Iraqi security forces, support to the global coalition's ministerial liaison team and personnel working

Extra effort packs soldiers' Christmas parcels

Sara White, Managing editor

Holiday spirits are high this year, if support for the Adopt the Troops Christmas parcel program is any indication.

The Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre had all hands on deck – plus cookies and carols – for a present-packing party November 15. Sixty-six Canadian Armed Forces members away from home this Christmas will have treats and warm wishes from home delivered to them.

"There are people on operations overseas and up north, at Alert," says MFRC deployment support coordinator Hilary Ward. "What are they getting? Maple cookies, maple syrup, protein shakers and powders, beef jerky, Tim Hortons coffee, sports socks and puzzle books.... The big thing is, all the local schools all made Christmas cards, kids from here in Kingston and Greenwood, Bridgewater and down the Valley to Lawrencetown. The cards are adorable!"

This Christmas campaign had an extra hand, as

efforts over the past two years to attract community support. In his third year, he visited a number of businesses, organizations and schools along the South Shore, where many of his squadron's Regular and Reserve force members live, asking them to pitch in.

"We started in October, getting organized," said Hennessey. "In Bridgewater, Boston Pizza, Pizza Delight and the River Pub gave a portion of their proceeds on a given day; Superstore and Sobeys in Liverpool and Bridgewater gave us gift cards; Sport Check gave us some gift cards, so we went and picked out a bunch of sports socks. Gow's Home Hardware asked customers to consider making a donation with their purchase – they even got me! Five schools made cards and gathered treats – one school apologized they were right down to the wire, but they were making little treat bags and were waiting for candy canes to come out!"

There was no shortage of parcel wrap and packing tape, as Christmas parcels for deployed troops were put together November 15 at the Greenwood Military Family Resource Centre. S. White

14 Construction Engineering Squadron Honorary Colonel Dan Hennessey, right, lends a helping hand. S. White

Hennessey said the support was "just great. I brought up $1,300 in cash donations for the MFRC today."

He was even more excited to be on hand for the actual parcel packing, as he'd not yet seen the final push to get Christmas "deployment ready." He brought his daughter, Grace, and they quickly jumped into the production line, packing, wrapping, taping and labelling the dozens of cartons.

"We had a lot of support this season," Ward said, giving Hennessey credit for enabling MFRC staff and volunteers to "really be able to think about what to put in the boxes, and have the resources ready to help make it all happen."

"I go to the stores to purchase things, and the businesses just want to do more. And, we had a lot more volunteers than we anticipated come today to help pack. All good problems to have!"

The MFRC sends parcels several times a year to deployed CAF members, particularly around holidays, including small treats and notes from home. The Christmas parcel effort, though, is always extra special.

at the All Source Intelligence Centre. New are Canadian Armed Forces engineers, delivering explosive threat training to Iraqi security forces.

The CP140 Aurora was one of the first CAF components to join the Op Impact effort in October 2014. With an initial two aircraft on deployment, and supporting crews, the single aircraft now in the field will have brought its intelligence, surveillance and reconnaissance capability to 871 sorties (as of November 12). Around 80 14 Wing personnel have been deployed since Op Impact started, in three- and six-month stints, and the demands of maintaining the commitment have been felt on individuals who have made multiple trips, and their home squadrons and branches supporting the deployment and continuing responsibilities at home.

"The Royal Canadian Air Force's long range patrol fleet has supported three years of valuable intelligence efforts over Iraq and Syria," said Brigadier-General Daniel MacIsaac, commander Joint Task Force – Iraq, November 17. "We welcome the Royal Canadian Engineers to our team, and know the Iraqi Army Bomb Disposal school's instructors are looking forward to our contributions to enhance Iraqi abilities to deal with explosive threats from Daesh. The additional CC130J Hercules will improve our ability to move the people and equipment needed to further stabilize Iraq to the benefit of its people."

MADD shares safe, sober holiday wish

Sara White, Managing editor

Almost 30 years ago, Wanda Porter's sister, her sister's fiancé and another young, married couple were driving home to the city after a summer family picnic. An impaired driver crashed into them.

"Instantly, four lives were lost," Porter remembers, "but the impact has been far reaching, so many other lives have been affected. You never get over the pain; you learn to deal with it and that this is the new normal."

But it's all preventable, Porter knows. She's a member of the Bay of Fundy Nova Scotia Mothers Against Drunk Driving chapter, part of the team of volunteers and emergency responders who launched the 2017 Project Red Ribbon November 16 at the Greenwood Mall.

With the simple act of tying a red ribbon onto a car antenna, MADD asks people to commit to not driving impaired, especially through the busy November and December holiday season.

"Have a plan for a safe ride home, stay overnight, call a cab," said MADD Atlantic regional manager

Susan MacAskill. "Especially young people: don't get in a vehicle with someone who is impaired."

MacAskill said MADD's Red Ribbon is a "powerful, simple signal in the fight against drunk driving," and Bay of Fundy NS volunteers are asking people from Greenwood west to Digby to "wear it, show it and share the message."

"Impaired driving will never be okay. We long for the day it will stop; it hasn't happened yet." On average in Canada, four people are killed and another 175 are injured because of impaired driving. Close to 1,500 people a year die; over 63,000 are injured.

"It's all totally preventable," MacAskill said.

Bay of Fundy NS volunteer Bill MacDougall lit a candle to remember all of those people hurt and killed, but "this is also a light that reminds us to think about those lives as the light that can break the darkness: of a crash, of RCMP having to go to someone's door and say, 'Your wife or son has been killed by an impaired driver.'"

Kingston RCMP Sergeant Jamie Greene credited MADD for its work helping emergency responders keep people safe, and also support victims and offer educational programs and resources.

"MADD is a good program, and the red ribbon means you support sober driving over the holidays. A reminder: our members will be out in force, with more patrols and checkpoints. We just wish everyone a Merry Christmas, and a safe and sober driving holiday."

Kings and Annapolis RCMP representatives, along with members of the MADD Bay of Fundy Nova Scotia chapter, marked the beginning of the annual Red Ribbon "Tie One On" campaign in Greenwood November 16. S. White

Family show follows Alice down twisted holiday rabbit hole

"Alice in Cuckoo Land, A Quest to Save Santa," adapts the story of Alice in Wonderland - with a twist in the pantomime manner. A pantomime is a comedy stage production for family entertainment. It was developed in the United Kingdom and performed around the Christmas season, with songs, gags, slapstick comedy and dancing; gender-crossing actors and topical humour with a story loosely based on a well-known fairy tale, fable or folk tale.

The King of Hearts (Adam Broughton), the Queen of Hearts (Rebecca Warrelow) and Tweedle Dumber (Mike Cook).

Members of the military, their families and local community artists have come together to put on this production to entertain families. Alice (Cassie Taylor) and her mother (Lee McVicar) are whisked away down the rabbit hole in attempts to free Santa Claus (John Stevens) from the dungeons of the evil Queen of Hearts (Rebecca Warrelow); all to return Christmas to Cuckoo Land. Enjoy good laughs with whimsical characters bantering back and forth - including you, the audience, as part of this adventure. Two games are planned for the kids, who could win special treats (just don't tell the Queen!). The Greenwood Players have been staging community entertainment for 61 years as a military-based community club. As this is truly a family production, we are encouraging everyone to come enjoy the show. The show runs November 28 through December 2, with doors open at 7 p.m. and the curtain up at 7:30 p.m. The show is performed at the Morfee Centre, 24 School Road Greenwood. Tickets are available at Pharmasaves in Kingston and Middleton, as well as the MFRC at the AVM Morfee and the Greenwood Recreation Centre. Tickets are $8, with children under 12 $5. For reservations, email gwdplayers@gmail.com, or contact 902-844-0053 (leave a voicemail).

Choir full of memories, gratitude

Jodi Bradbury, Vice president, Canadian Military Wives Choir Greenwood

September 21 to 24, during the opening ceremonies of the Invictus Games in Toronto, Greenwood's Canadian Military Wives Choir shared the stage with 170 other choir members from bases and wings across Canada, and world famous soprano, Laura Wright; to perform the song "Invincible," which she wrote especially for the occasion. This honour and privilege would not have been possible without the emotional and financial support of our very generous community here at home. Local businesses and people in the Annapolis Valley, especially in Greenwood and Kingston, did not hesitate to help us out in any way - whether it was donating items to our various fundraisers, attending our various events and sharing in our excitement at this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. In order to be able to fly 15 choir members to Toronto with only six months' notice, our fundraising goals were very lofty! It can't be understated our presence at the Invictus Games would not have been possible without the support of our incredible community. We achieved our goals because of you! We wish to express our deepest gratitude to our local community, the leadership of 14 Wing Greenwood, our families, and the local businesses of the Annapolis Valley. Thank you very much, and we hope to see you all at our future performances and fundraisers.

Get your cycle on

Do you want to get fit? Lose weight? Be healthy? Challenge yourself? Do you want strong legs? Volunteer instructors include Cori "Coriographer" Plante, Mike "The Italian Stallion" Dymond, Derek "Crazy Mountain Man" Salley, Eric "King of Greenwood" Plante and Natalie Dugas-Antle. All these questions can be answered just by attending indoor cycling classes with qualified C.O.R.E. indoor cycling instructors at the 14 Wing Greenwood Fitness & Sports Centre. Volunteer instructors will challenge you through outdoor cycling scenarios as if you were racing, sprinting and climbing hills. The classes are motivational and challenging so you get the most benefits but, ultimately, are in control of your own effort level. No experience needed: instructors will set you up on a Keiser indoor bike so you can pedal as efficiently as possible. They will teach you to work with the BORG scale, and help you determine what level of effort you are working. Classes are Mondays and Wednesdays, noon to 12:45 p.m., and Tuesday and Thursdays, 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. All classes are free for military personnel, full time Department of National Defence or Non Public Funds employees and 14 Wing Greenwood Community Recreation Card holders with an ID card. Community health board needs your input

Pat Nixon, Kingston/ Greenwood Community Health Board

The Kingston/ Greenwood Community Health Board, in collaboration with other health boards in the Western Zone, are currently starting the process of developing a new community health plan that will take effect in 2019. This will be a collaborative effort encompassing the input and efforts of the 11 community health boards that make up the Western Zone. The end result will be a Collaborative Health Care Plan for the entire Western Zone.

The process involves a number of public engagement meetings held by the individual CHBs with in the Western Zone of Nova Scotia. This public engagement process also includes encouraging the members and stakeholders of all our communities to complete a “Your Voice for a Healthy Community” survey by November 30. Completion of this anonymous survey will help identify the factors that affect the health of our community members and the health of the broader community. In other words, we want to know what prevents you from being the healthiest you can be. It will also give us an indication of what prevents residents, their families, and the community from living healthy lives. Completion of the survey will also let us know what a healthy community looks like to you.

Completion of this survey is critical in our efforts to develop the community health plan. The survey can be found at engage4health.ca/YOURhealthOURcommunity. The survey can also be printed off in paper copy from this site. In the Kingston/ Greenwood area, completed paper copies of the survey can be dropped off at the Kingston Needs Store by placing them in an enveloped marked “Health Survey.” They will be picked up by a member of the community health board prior to November 30, the deadline for completing the survey.

West Kings students, also members of Precision Dance, prepared and performed “Waiting Game.” S. White

Students share remembrance, diversity

Sara White, Managing editor

West Kings District High School students celebrated diversity during their November 8 Remembrance Day service, a fitting way to demonstrate their theme, “War does not discriminate.”

“Throughout this ceremony, you’ll be able to catch a glimpse of all the diverse people here at West Kings,” said student MC Cassandra Blight. “Welcome.” The national anthem was sung in three languages – English, French and Mi’kmaq; a choir shared the Gaelic “Mist Covered Mountains,” familiar to many as the song welcoming home Canadian soldiers killed in Afghanistan; a lyrical dance piece called “Waiting Game” was performed by students, a historical biography of the First World War’s landmark No. 2 Construction Battalion, the regiment of hundreds of African Canadians who served, was presented; and the much-loved “In Flanders Fields” was read by several students.

Merele Kardolus, the school’s first exchange student from Holland, was the guest speaker. “Canada and Holland have at half-mast. We have two minutes of silence. Then, at 10 p.m., a new ceremony starts, including drama, music, speeches and always one special moment: the lighting of the freedom light at midnight. That will burn all year. And Liberation Day is May 5. We celebrate that we are free, that we can live without a war. There is a big parade, and veterans from all over the world will come visit us.” She closed, reading in Dutch, “At the 11th hour on the 11th day of the 11th month, we will remember them.” The ceremony is prepared by students who have attended the Royal Canadian Legion’s leadership camp, with the support of school staff and community resources, including the Kingston Legion. It closed with the now traditional lighting of candles, each marking the 158 Canadian Armed Forces members killed in service in Afghanistan. Pictures of all of them played on the large screens before the gym’s lights went out, leaving the glowing lights set before a white cross at stage front. School principal Donna Griffin thanked the audience. “November 11, take a moment, attend a service. You are all incredible young Canadians. You are also very proud.”

Local student Cadets made an impact in all parts of the West Kings service of remembrance.

Trois conseils pour économiser sur l'entretien automobile

(EN) Il est plus facile que vous le pensez d'éviter des réparations coûteuses en faisant vous-même l'entretien de votre véhicule, et ce de façon régulière. Ces conseils faciles à suivre vous aideront à garder votre véhicule en bon état de marche toute l'année.

1. Utilisez des produits de qualité. Il est préférable de payer un peu plus pour des produits de qualité qui ont fait leurs preuves lorsqu'il s'agit d'assurer la longévité d'un achat majeur comme un véhicule. Protégez votre voiture contre le froid extrême en utilisant l'antigel/liquide de refroidissement Prestone. De plus, ce produit empêche la corrosion et prévient l'apparition de la rouille dans toutes les pièces métalliques d'un système de refroidissement.

2. Attention aux pneus. La vérification périodique des pneus est un élément essentiel de l'entretien d'une voiture, et ce en toute saison. Vous ne voulez pas vous retrouver en panne sur une route isolée à cause d'une crevaison. De plus, des pneus qui ne sont pas suffisamment gonflés vont faire augmenter la consommation de carburant et des pneus trop gonflés vont affecter la tenue de route. Vérifiez toujours la pression des pneus lorsqu'ils sont froids et que la voiture n'a pas été utilisée depuis quelques heures. Gonflez les pneus en fonction de la pression indiquée sur l'autocollant qui se trouve à l'intérieur d'une des portes.

3. Réparez les fuites. Réglez un petit problème avant qu'il ne se transforme en problème majeur. Vous pouvez réparer vous-même la plupart des fuites avec des produits abordables que vous pouvez facilement vous procurer. Utilisez les produits Triple protection Prestone contre les fuites du bloc-moteur ou du radiateur. Ces produits ciblent les endroits où se trouvent les fuites afin de les colmater de façon permanente. Ils vous permettent de sceller les fuites des radiateurs, des joints de culasse, et du bloc-moteur tout en lubrifiant la pompe à eau et en protégeant ces pièces contre la rouille et le calcaire.

Clean start ensures great tasting brew

Richard Berthiaume, Valley Brewtique, Kingston

Whether you are an expert or novice wine or beer maker, your goal should always be to have a product that reflects your style and taste, and will remain stable once bottled. After all, when you're making 30 to 60 bottles at once, you want to enjoy the last bottle opened just as much - or even more - than the first.

Cleaning and sanitizing is essential for producing stable and great tasting products.

Cleaning means you've removed all the visible dirt and residue; sanitizing means you treat your equipment with chemical solutions to eliminate and prevent molds, wild yeasts and bacteria.

Ensure everything coming into contact with your kits are processed properly: a quick dip of a dirty hydrometer in hot water or a soap solution will not sanitize it or, in fact, even clean it properly. Never use dish soaps or detergents, as these will leave a residue. A dishwasher will not sterilize (and often not clean) dirty items either.

It's not enough for your equipment to be merely clean; some micro-organisms may contribute to a wine, others turn it or beer into vinegar - or worse.

Clean and soak your equipment in warm water to ensure all dirt has been removed. If you're using bleach-based cleaners, ensure you rinse before sanitizing.

Dip and soak your equipment (briefly) in a sanitizing solution (check with your local home brew shop for the right product), rinse and allow to air dry.

The difference between a good bottle of wine or beer and a great one is attention to detail. Next week, oxidation and finalizing. Cheers, and happy brewing.

Design the perfect holiday tabletop to match your aesthetic

(NC) Holiday décor is all about the details. This year, why not add a touch of charm to your home with an elegant tablescape that suits your personal aesthetic? To help take the guesswork out of holiday decorating, design guru Debbie Travis shares her tips to create a captivating dining space.

To create an air of glitz and glam, icy blues and captivating crystals nod to the frosty temperatures of the season and create a stunning tabletop. Travis recommends using sparkling crystal wine glasses and pairing them with a cool toned table runner for a subtle pop of colour. The combination creates a sophisticated ambiance, ideal for any dinner party.

For an edgy elegance, metallics are your go-to. Brass, copper, and gold décor are hot this year — and for good reason. These hues warm up a space, adding a trendy yet polished look. “Forgo the average greens and reds for more contemporary colours,” Travis advises. “My top tip when using metallic accents is do it sparingly. Pair them with other colours and textures so they stand out.”

If you're seeking traditional charm, bring the outdoors in and have a little DIY fun by creating a rustic centerpiece that's both beautiful and budget friendly. Travis suggests buying your own large glass bowl or vase and adding a collection of pinecones or beautiful Christmas crackers for a quick, fun holiday piece.

Fun By The Numbers
Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Régimes d'épargne des FAC

Lorsqu'on parle d'épargne, il y a des maximes connues de tous: « Dépensez moins que vous ne gagnez et mettez le reste à l'œuvre », « plus vous commencerez tôt, plus vous épargnerez », et la plus importante « payez-vous d'abord »... Eh bien maintenant, la Financière SISIP offre aux membres actifs et libérés des Forces armées canadiennes (FAC) la possibilité de réaliser les trois, grâce aux nouveaux Régimes d'épargne des FAC!

Si se payer en d'abord est un exemple que tout le monde devrait suivre, ces nouveaux produits d'épargne et de placement* représentent une stratégie d'épargne à faible coût et facile à mettre en œuvre, exclusive aux membres des FAC et leurs conjoint(e)s, avec des avantages très pratiques :

- Vous pouvez commencer à y contribuer avec à peine 1 $ par jour
- Option de délégation de solde directe pour les membres de la Force régulière (cotisation prélevée directement de votre solde) OU contribution préautorisée (pour les membres de la Force de la réserve ou membres libérés)
- Coût-bénéfice de groupe et frais administratifs peu élevés, comparativement à la norme du secteur
- Le gain réel, c'est le montant que vous épargnez :
- Cotisez seulement 50 $ par mois et, dans 35 ans, vous aurez épargné 55 660 $
- Cotisez 100 $ par mois et dans 35 ans, vous aurez épargné la somme stupéfiante de 111 320 $! **

Les Régimes d'épargne des FAC sont axés sur des solutions d'épargne / de placement simples qui permettent aux membres des FAC et à leur famille d'assurer leur santé et leur sécurité financière de façon durable. En y participant, les membres peuvent commencer à appliquer de saines habitudes et stratégies de gestion financière qui les aideront à répondre aux exigences qui font partie intégrante de la vie militaire – les réaffectations constantes, la perte du revenu du conjoint, les variations considérables au coût de la vie selon l'affectation, etc. Les membres des FAC peuvent donc s'attendre à de gains, aussi bien à court terme que à long terme:

- Créer un fonds d'urgence
- Épargner pour l'achat d'un nouveau véhicule
- Constituer une mise de fonds pour l'achat d'une nouvelle maison
- Mettre en banque leur prime de départ pour le moment où ils seront libérés ou prendront leur retraite

Même si vous n'êtes pas versés en matière de comptes de placement garanti, fonds du marché monétaire, fonds axés sur le degré de risque, la composition de l'actif... vous pouvez être certains que vous épargnez sont gérées par les meilleures sociétés de placement dans leur catégorie. Cette tranquillité d'esprit représente une contribution supplémentaire de la Financière SISIP à l'état de préparation opérationnelle des membres des FAC.

Les conseillers de la Financière SISIP assortiront votre profil d'investisseur à votre tolérance au risque. Ce sont eux, les experts « qui feront le travail pour vous ». Commencez donc votre planification financière du bon pied en vous payant d'abord!

* Placements offerts par la Great-West
 Le taux de rendement (5 %) est un taux de rendement composé annuel moyen, et les taxes sont exclues des calculs.

Women's advisory session December 5 invites wing participants

The Defence Women Advisory Organization (DWA0) for 14 Wing Greenwood will hold an information session December 5 at 1 p.m. in the Tow Bar at the Annapolis Mess.

The DWA0 exists to provide women and men of DND/CAF an avenue to advise and network with leadership, colleagues and subordinates. The purpose is to assist in resolving any systemic issues that may be adversely affecting DND/CAF's ability to capitalize on the full contribution women can make towards a strong, effective and representative DND/CAF. Providing this voice for employees and members is crucial to completing the information leaders and individuals need to make decisions that affect our workplace.

This meeting will provide information on what the organization is about, and the activities the DWA0 will be hosting in the upcoming months.

We are also actively looking for people interested in being part of the committee. If you are a dynamic person who wants to invest your time in this organization, please come out to the information session. If you are interested in being involved in the committee, contact the co-chairs: Major Tania Maurice, 902-765-1494 local 3915 or tania.maurice@forces.gc.ca, or Rosie Smith-Gimblett, 902-765-1494 local 5246 or rose.smithgimblett@forces.gc.ca.

Membership is open to all 14 Wing employees.

Signals sound, searches launched

November 20, the Halifax Joint Rescue Coordination Centre dispatched a 413 (Transport and Rescue) Squadron Cormorant out of 14 Wing Greenwood just after 7 p.m., in response to an emergency beacon sounding 717 nautical miles east of St. John's.

November 22, a Cormorant left Greenwood around 8:30 p.m. on a search for an emergency beacon sounding seven nautical miles northwest of Yarmouth. Shortly after 10 p.m., the search was resolved, with the signal located on land near Yarmouth. Ground search and rescue assets were dispatched by JRCC and the helicopter returned to Greenwood.

413 (Transport and Rescue) Squadron assets were scheduled to be on a heightened 30-minute standby posture from 6 a.m. to 4 p.m. November 27 for the opening of the fall lobster season in Lobster Fishery Areas 33 and 34. The JRCC and the Canadian Coast Guard heighten and augment their search and rescue posture during specific periods each year, in consultation with the Department of Fisheries and Oceans and other agencies.

Local Grade 9 students joined their parents for a co-ordinated Take Your Kid to Work Day tour of 14 Wing Greenwood work spaces November 1.

Sara White, Managing editor

14 Wing Greenwood work sites opened their doors November 1, and dozens of personnel brought along extra workers for the day, as Grade 9 students from local schools took part in Take Your Kid to Work Day.

The base coordinates a day of experiences for base employees' children, ensuring supervised access to sometimes less open – or even restricted – work spaces. With a focus this year on the wing's vehicles, the experience was varied.

"This day will provide a glimpse of what your parents do and, maybe, what you may be doing in the future," said organizer Captain Matt Zalot, the wing's public affairs officer. "You're going to see a lot of things on the wing, with a focus on vehicles – on the domestic side, and the aircraft."

The day started with an orientation briefing at the Birchall theatre, with 14 Wing Greenwood Commander Colonel Mike Adamson welcoming close to two dozen participating students.

"Welcome to everyone – both the students and your parents," he said. "Get the most out of your day, talk to people and ask questions. This is your opportunity to be exposed to a kind of lifestyle and the challenges that come with working in uniform and for the government. Look at what jobs are like, from the administrative side to flying airplanes to blowing things up."

The day's schedule included visits to the wing's fire hall, Military Police quarters and hangars for tours of static aircraft. Visitors also stopped for lunch at the Annapolis Mess.

14 Wing Library – Serving those who read

Judy McCool & Stephanie Bannister 14 Wing Library

Stephanie, the volunteers and I at the 14 Greenwood Wing Library would like to wish our patrons a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. This is a very special time of the year, to be shared with family and friends. We hope to see many of you so we can personally wish you the best of the season.

Our Christmas tree is up, decorated and surrounded by lots of great Christmas "reads," just waiting for you to take them out and enjoy. What a great time to find a quiet corner and be transported to another world! We encourage you to come in and get stocked up on. New titles include "Hardcore Twenty-Four," by Janet Evanovich; "End Game," by David Baldacci; "The Midnight Line," by Lee Child; "The Rooster Bar," by John Grisham; "Don't Let Go," by Harlan Coben; and "Two Kinds of Truth," by Michael Connelly.

To all of our volunteers, what would we do without you? Covering books, shelving books, reading shelves, leading story times, special projects and recycle jobs - your volunteer hours help make the 14 Wing library a better entity. We extend our gratitude for your assistance!

A big thank you is extended to the Friends of the Library Society; since their inception in 2010, members have purchased an amazing 616 new books for the library through fundraising and acquiring grants. The Friends are always looking for new members to assist them; anyone wishing to help them out may contact Beth Lennox at 902-768-8826.

What's going on at the library? Learn to knit with Beth – Fridays, 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. Under The story Tree story time – Tuesdays, 10:30 a.m. Book club – the first Mondays of the month, 6 p.m. The Friends of the Greenwood Library – the last Wednesdays of the month, 1:30 p.m. Book sale! Fill a bag with books for only $5. We have quite a variety of paperbacks and hardcover.

Upcoming events December 11 to 17, the Friends of the Library host their annual craft and bake sale at the library during open hours. All proceeds go towards purchasing new books for the library.

December 20, 4 p.m. to 5 p.m., Santa is coming for a special visit to the library and will be reading Christmas books. Pre-register your little ones for this event at 902-765-1494 local 5430.

Library hours Monday - 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday - 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 6 - 8 p.m. Wednesday - 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Friday - noon to 4 p.m. Sunday - 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Kingston's Markland Lodge marks milestone

W. Abbott, Markland Lodge

Markland Lodge 99 AF&AM of Kingston held its last meeting October 23 in the Masonic Temple on Victoria Street in Kingston.

It was 54 years to the month Markland first held a meeting at this Lodge. Prior to that, the Lodge rented space in the old IOOF hall on Bridge Street and, when it burned down in 1938, Markland shared space in Aylesford until a new IOOF hall was built; Markland met there until 1963. Fifty brothers attended the farewell meeting. All the officers in the various seats were past masters of Markland Lodge, with Doug McKeil, master in 1971, sitting in the East. Markland Lodge members ranged in age from Al Lathem, 92, to Daniel Davidson, 29, our newest member. District Deputy Grand Master for Kings District Gary Galley was in attendance, as well as 30 other Masons from around Nova Scotia. A supper was held prior to the meeting, and a fellowship hour followed the final Masonic meeting.

Lodge historian Winston Abbott read the minutes of the first meeting held in the Lodge, October 28, 1963. Several members rose to relate stories of Lodge happenings over the past 54 years in the Kingston Lodge hall. Markland was the main supporters of the Kingston Steer BBQ for years until it grew too large to handle. The Lions took over and since then, have made it a huge success working in partnership with the village and the Legion.

Markland Lodge 99 will now hold its meetings at the Masonic Hall in Berwick commencing in November.
